

Flagger's Priceless Response

The Regional Executive was about to start the morning briefing to his Race Chairmen and Stewards. While waiting for the coffee machine to finish its brewing, he decided to pose a question to all assembled. He explained that his wife had been a bit frisky the night before and he failed to get his usual amount of sound sleep. He posed the question of just how much of sex was 'work' and how much of it was 'pleasure?'

The Race Chair chimed in with 75-25% in favour of work.

The Flag Chief said it was 50-50%.

The Medical Chief responded with 25-75% in favour of pleasure, depending on his state of inebriation at the time.

There being no consensus, the Regional Executive turned to the corner worker who was in charge of making the coffee. What was HIS opinion?

With no hesitation, the young corner worker responded, "Sir, it has to be 100% pleasure."

The Regional Executive. was surprised and, as you might guess, asked why?

"Well, Sir, began the corner worker, "if there was any work involved, the Stewards would have me doing it for them."
